

USSC agents are the benchmark in Residential Real Estate patrol. Because they're not just protecting your residents and property, they're protecting your brand.

Well-trained, alert and proactive, USSC agents are in a class by themselves.

USSC agents consistently rank among the best in the industry. Professional, on point and vigilant — plus well-dressed, groomed and on time — our agents are not only screened for the best fit for your organization and property type, each is also trained beyond typical security curricula. In addition, our agents' high-level performance is aided by the use of the latest technology, including GPS linked tour tracking and integrated officer reports to your desktop. Quality assurance is monitored by an experienced USSC Supervisor, who will be your point of contact and report to you on all aspects of USSC's patrol responsibilities.
