

Handpicked. Well-honed.
Beyond reproach.

USSC agents are in a class
by themselves.

Security breaches don't come with second chances. And when you consider what's at stake, it's no wonder so many retailers now choose USSC.

USSC agents, handpicked and recruited from law enforcement and the military, rank among the best in the industry. Professional, on point and vigilant – plus well-dressed, groomed and on time – USSC agents are not only screened for the best fit for you and your organization, each is also trained beyond typical security curriculums. Expertise includes CPR, AED (defibrillator), behavioral recognition, verbal de-escalation skill sets (verbal judo to defuse problems before they become emergencies) and, of course, exceptional customer relations.

USSC's stringent recruitment standards also apply to armed USSC agents. Every armed USSC agent is required to qualify twice annually using our NRA-certified "zero-miss" Course of Fire. We place a heavy emphasis on scenario-based training and weapons safety and handling skills designed to give our agents the knowledge and abilities to make good decisions in stressful situations.

Further, USSC brings that same higher standard to all things customer service. An experienced USSC Field Supervisor acts as your point of contact, reports to you, and frequently checks on agents, conditions, and store activity.

The mere presence of USSC's hand-selected agents acts as a powerful visual deterrent while lending a sense of comfort to all: customers, guests and staff alike. Experience the professionalism USSC brings to retailers large and small.
